Continuation of Disposition of Claims: Claims pending in the application are 1,4,5,8,11-14,16-19,21,22,24-26,31,33,35,37-42,45,46,48-51,54-62,64,65,67-69,72 and 74-76.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims , 1, 4-5, 8, 11-19, 21-22, 24-26, 31-37, 45-51, 54-60, 72 and 74 drawn to methods and systems for determining an ad to be displayed and determining a first message based on personal information and targeting criteria, classified in class 705, subclass 14.
 - II. Claims 38-72, drawn to determining a second message wherein said second message is related to an advertisement's subject matter, classified in class 705, subclass 14.
 - III. Claims 61-62, 64-65, 67-69 and 75, drawn to a code governing how the messages are displayed, classified in class 705, subclass 44.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as collecting personal information and basing the first message based on said personal information. Invention II has a separate utility such as determining a second message associated with the advertisement subject matter. See MPEP § 806.05(d).
3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as determining a second message associated with the advertisement subject matter.

Invention III has a separate utility such as a code for governing how the messages are displayed. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as a code for governing how the messages are displayed. Invention II has a separate utility such as determining a second message associated with the advertisement subject matter. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

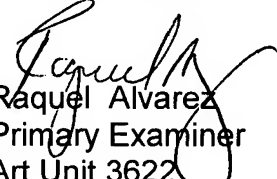

6. Since the examiner knows from past experience that an election will not be made by telephone, this restriction is proper under MPEP 812.01.
